Welcome to Hypermart, the fastest growing business community on the net! We are here to provide a free home for your business on the web, to create a community of similar individuals for sharing knowledge and networking, and to facilitate in general the growth of business on the Internet.

Hypermart provides free web hosting to businesses throughout the world. We give you up to 10 MB of server space and unlimited bandwidth. You can host with us for free with your own domain name (for example: <http://www.yourcompany.com>) or through a subdomain (for example: <http://yourcompany.hypermart.net>) or through just a directory (for example: <http://www.hypermart.net/yourcompany>). We have automated as many of the procedures as possible to make all of our lives easier. If you need help though, we are ready and willing to lend a hand. Our objective is to provide a top notch hosting solution to you so that we can become your permanent host on the web.

Please take a look around our site- it grows every day as we add new tutorials and information. There are discussion groups to ask for help, or simply to chat about what is happening where you are. Members have access to a growing number of utilities for controlling their account, and we welcome your suggestions for new pieces of software you would like to see installed. We are everything you would expect from a business-class web presence provider, and more!

About Hypermart

Hypermart was created to provide free web hosting for businesses, and an online business community for discussion and networking. Our mission is to pull down any financial barriers that may stand between a business and its dreams.

How can we accomplish for free what normally costs $29.95/month or more? We attack those costs via two methods:

1. Hypermart members are required to display our banner ads
2. Hypermart uses Non-IP virtual hosting

First off, in order to defray the normal hosting costs we require that all members include our banner ad html on all of their web pages.

This allows us to sell more and more advertising banners as we acquire new members, and thus keep up with the financial costs as our bandwidth and storage needs skyrocket. It also provides a powerful kick in our pants to help make your site as successful as it can be. We plan to provide search engine tips and other goodies in the near future to help your site gain as many hits as possible!

Secondly, we make use of a special kind of virtual hosting called Non-IP virtual hosting for any members who are hosting a domain with us. This means that we do not have to assign a unique IP address to each domain, and therefore do not need the thousands upon thousands of IP addresses (and their associated costs) that normal hosting companies have to deal with. There is one downside to Non-IP hosting: currently about 8% of the people on the Internet are using web browsers too old to be compatible with Non-IP hosting. They will not be able to reach your site. Over the next 6 months this percentage will drop below 5%, and in a year's time will be completely negligible.

That's pretty much it! In exchange for displaying our banner ad on your pages, you get completely free hosting including the following features:

- o 10 megs of hosting space
- o Virtual hosting if you want or have your own domain
- o An email alias to redirect mail from your virtual domain
- o Unlimited transfers/traffic
- o Full CGI access
- o Full FTP access
- o Full Frontpage access, including FP 98!
- o Daily web site statistics
- o Members get their own newsgroup
- o Email, newsgroup, and phone-based support
- o Lots of member utilities to help manage your account
- o Autoresponders
- o Secure server for SSL transactions

Break the paradigm of paid hosting, and move your site to Hypermart today!

Whats New Here at Hypermart:

The server was upgraded and moved to a more secure underground facility which offers 24 hour video surveillance and higher bandwidth connections. Here is a list of all our new features:

- 300 megahertz Pentium II server with 196 megs of ram and the capacity to store 200 gigabytes of files
- Server operating system upgraded to BSDI 3.1
- 3 redundant BGP4 routed T3 network lines
- 99% system availability guarantee
- UPS System power backups
- Diesel Generator power backup
- Tape backups of all content
- Tapes stored in a fireproof vault
- Fire suppression system in server room
- 9am to 5pm EST tech support Monday through Friday at (404)-347-9864

Changes to how the system really operates:

- Subdomains are now added, which means that you can now use mydomain.hypermart.net or www.hypermart.net/mydomain
- Frontpage Users can now all have their own root webs (mydomain.

Ready to Join?

Great- this will only take about a minute and you will be up and running! First, tell us: Are you going to be hosting a domain with us (either transferring a domain, or registering a new one), or do you simply need a directory and subdomain under the Hypermart domain (<http://www.hypermart.net/mycompany> and <http://mycompany.hypermart.net>)?

I am transferring or registering a new domain

I just need a directory and subdomain

FTP Questions

- I cant seem to connect with FTP, what is wrong?
  - When I FTP my files, where do they go?
  - Do I need a special ftp client?
  - What server do I connect to and how do I log in?

I cant seem to connect with FTP, what is wrong?

Your accountname gets converted to all lowercase, if you entered capitals, please try again with lowercase letters. Also, your password is case sensitive, please make sure that you are entering it correctly.

When I FTP my files, where do they go?

When you FTP your files they are transferred directly into a directory specifically set up for your files, no one but you and the administrators of the server have access to this directory.

Do I need a special ftp client?

No, you do not need to use a special client to connect.

What server do I connect to and how do I log in?

You can ftp to either www.hypermart.net or ftp.hypermart.net, you then log in with your username and password.

Toggle Auto Ad Insertion

Here you can turn on or off the auto-insertion of our banner at the tops of your FTPed web pages. If you turn it on, all .html and .htm web pages you FTP to us will have our banner inserted after your <body> tag. If you turn it off, you will be responsible for placing our ad banner html code onto your pages yourself.

Ad Banner Questions

- o Where will you be placing your ads?
  - o The banner ads that you display, what kinds of ads will they be?
  - o How large are the banners?
  - o I want to use frames, how will the banner ads affect frames since you said that each page will have a banner ad placed on it?
  - o Do you put the ads into our pages or can I specify where I want the ad to go?
  - o I dont seem to have ad banners on my site.

Where will you be placing your ads?

We will be placing ads on every single page served.

The banner ads that you display, what kinds of ads will they be?

The banner ads will be professional and business oriented. There will be no adult oriented ads, and no non-professional or non-business ads.

How large are the banners?

The banner ads should be the "standard" 468X60 pixel banner ads.

I want to use frames, how will the banner ads affect frames since you said that each page will have a banner ad placed on it?

We allow you to upload your files with a .ftm or .ftml extension. These extensions will be for framesets and will not have the banners inserted in them.

Do you put the ads into our pages or can I specify where I want the ad to go?

You have to add the code to your html document, here is the code to place in your document:

<!-- Begin Advertising Banner -->
<!--#include virtual="/stats/username"-->
<!-- End Advertising Banner -->

Where username is your Hypermart username.

If you use Frontpage, you would use the HTML option under the insert menu to insert HTML directly into your document. Otherwise Frontpage will convert the < and the &rt; to an html code that causes them to be displayed rather than interpreted.

We monitor all .ftm/.ftml files to make sure that the ad banner is visible in at least one frame.

I dont seem to have ad banners on my site.

This is bad. The ad banners are how we provide you with free hosting. Please use the above code to insert the banners onto your pages as soon as possible. When we do our monitoring and the banners are missing we will flag your site and ask you to insert the banners, if you do not insert the banners you are hurting us, yourself and our other members. You may be removed from our servers for not displaying the banner for this reason.
